

Ministry of Defence

MOD Information Apprenticeships

Get in – Go far...

A two-year scheme, the MOD Information Apprenticeships offer participants the chance to work in Information Security and Information Technology roles within the Ministry of Defence.

Both offer the opportunity to gain qualifications and technical knowledge along with real practical experience and functional and interpersonal skills required for a future career in Defence.

What's in it for me?

- Earn £16000 per annum.
- Real qualifications – Level 3 diplomas for knowledge and competence.
- Opportunity to work alongside the military and gain an understanding of the unique Defence Information Arena.
- Accreditation with leading external bodies BCS (Information Technology) and IISP (Information Security).

Eligibility

Minimum five GCSE passes (A*–C) to include English Language and Maths.

Location

The MOD Information Apprenticeships are predominately based in Corsham, Wiltshire, however there are opportunities elsewhere across the UK.

For more information about the MOD Information Apprenticeships, the roles on offer and how to apply please visit:

<https://www.gov.uk/government/collections/mod-information-apprenticeships>

